“Artificial Intelligence in Pastoral Care: Who cares?”

Friday, January 26, Noon-1:00pm

Centre for Christian Studies Free Lecture/Discussion

Intelligence technologies are being introduced into nearly every area of human life and work. One day soon, will artificial intelligence, in the forms of social robots and chatbots, be used in pastoral and spiritual care?

In this talk, we will explore social robots and therapeutic chatbots being used in mental health care and consider implications for the future of pastoral and spiritual care. Join David Lappano, former CCS program educator, and researcher. Hear recent work on this subject.
